

08 - VOCABULARY: A LIST OF CONNECTORS

Addition

Monkeys are both intelligent and curious

I don't feel like going out tonight. Besides, there is a good film on.

She writes novels. In addition, she also writes poetry.

They robbed a bank as well as a post office.

They adore Indian food. I like Indian food, too.

Purpose

They studied very hard (in order) to pass their English exam.

They studied very hard so as to pass their French exam.

Mike visited Manchester so (that) he should see his British friend.

A knife is used for cutting.

Reason and Cause

As he wasn't well-dressed, they didn't let him in.

It must be break time, because I see many people in the canteen.

Since you're going to Great Britain, you should buy an umbrella.

There was no one in class because of the football match.

The school's success is largely due to the new director.

She couldn't hear the teacher talking for all the noise of her classmates.

We must start planning next year course, for the future may bring unexpected changes.

The school is strange in that there are two directors.

Result

His wife left him. As a result, he became very depressed.

The lesson was so boring (that) I almost fell asleep.

He was such a handsome man that she fell in love immediately

Last research has shown that Tourism is the main sector in the area. Thus, the local Council has decided to invest more money on local attractions.

Concession / Opposition

Although I was having a good time, I left early.

Nobody failed, though it was a difficult exam.

He failed the exam, even though he had studied a lot.

Even if you don't like languages, they are important for Tourism studies.

Whereas Peter looks rather smart, his friend looks a bit fool.

While the third year students are wonderful, the second year ones are terrible.

We went out in spite of the rain

Despite the rain, I went for a walk.

In spite of the fact that (despite the fact that) they tried to rescue him, he died.

Buying a house is expensive. However, it is a good investment

Unlike his father, he didn't drink alcohol

Neither cows nor sheep eat meat

You can either wear a dress or a skirt

You'd better wear a coat, or else (otherwise) you'll be cold

The dog looks peaceful. On the contrary, it is very aggressive.

Manner and comparison

- Please fill the gaps (exactly) as I instructed.

- (Just) as bad students are attracted by the canteen, so are good students by the library.(inversion)

Time

He lived with his parents until he was eighteen

As long as you live here, you have to obey my rules

Don't forget to buy your tickets as soon as you reach the train station.

The flight assistant, once everyone was in the plane, was very cheerful.

After studying Tourism, I will study Public Relations.

Before coming to London, I was living in Bristol.

While being in the UK, I went to German lessons.

Once finished school, I started university.

I saw her while she was having a coffee at the canteen.

When I saw you, you were studying Tourism

I saw her as she opened the door.

Remember: There are certain important differences between When and

As:

As: two actions at the same time.*

When: One action after the other.*

Place

The students went wherever they could have a free meal.

Where the sun shines, it's hot.